Why attend the Graduate Jobs and Internships Fair

Why Attend

If you're unsure about your career path, come along to:

- Meet organisations and obtain more detailed information than in their literature or websites
- Speak to employees and past USYD graduates about their experiences of working for individual companies
- Talk to graduate recruiters about the range of opportunities available for each level of study
- Gain an insight into the different graduate programs and internship opportunities and what is involved within each role

If you know what career path you want to follow, come along to:

- Explore work experience, open days, internships and graduate opportunities
- Find out more about the responsibilities you would have during the first year to 18 months of employment in a graduate job
- Get top tips for filling in application forms, and attending assessment centres/interviews
- Expand your knowledge of the organisation you may want to work for; the career prospects, organisational environment and training opportunities that they can offer you now and in the future
- Get yourself noticed. Many employers use opportunities like this as part of their early stage recruitment processes. They identify students who present well and show real enthusiasm for the field of work and their organisation.
