

Alumni Council Value Proposition

Value of a manifesto in this initial era and possibly beyond: promoting the new

1. To announce the new context, beginning, era – start the new story
2. To provide a lively definition and catalyst for conversation and action
3. To promote the new order, new meaning, new communities
4. To help develop culture in the new team.

Alumni Council manifesto

1. We acknowledge the University's demonstrated capacity for vigorous renewal in the challenging era of technology disruption and globalisation of education.
2. We acknowledge the mighty potential of the University's academic staff and students to benefit the world.
3. We believe the University's commitment to enquiry in teaching and research offers rich rewards that last for life
4. We believe in and acknowledge the goodwill and generosity of alumni in supporting the University to maintain a leading position among world universities.
5. We intend to be catalysts for building the alumni community from student days onwards into lifelong connection
6. We intend to invite, encourage and enjoy conversations throughout the University community to gather cross-pollinating information and ideas
7. We intend to serve the University community and promote its purposes with our diverse skills and experience and connections
8. We intend to be open to sources of innovation – the unusual, the unexpected, the surprising, the startling and the disquieting.
