

Introduction

It is my very great pleasure to welcome you to the eleventh issue of the University of Sydney Papers in TESOL. This is a special issue of the Papers edited by Patrick Pheasant and Lydia Dutcher from the Centre for English Teaching at the University of Sydney and supported by the University English Centres of Australia (UECA). The focus of this issue is research related to university English language centres in Australia. We have contributions from authors at the University of Sydney, UNSW Australia, Macquarie University, and the University of Technology, Sydney. We are delighted to have these cross-institutional contributions to the Papers and hope this will continue further into the future.

This year we will be hosting the eleventh University of Sydney TESOL Research Network Colloquium, an annual event which showcases research in the area of TESOL, and provides a forum to discuss possible collaborations in the future.

Further information on the activities of the University of Sydney TESOL Research Network can be found at:
