

Introduction

I am delighted to welcome you to the latest issue of the University of Sydney Papers in TESOL.

This issue features research situated in Asia, with an investigation of student attitudes towards language testing in a Chinese undergraduate tertiary setting (Fan & Ji), a study of e-learning in the Thai university sector (Deerajviset & Harbon), and an analysis of vocabulary use in the writing of EFL students in a high school in China (Wang).

We are especially pleased to continue a tradition of publishing the research of students and colleagues, based here in Australia and in neighbouring regions.

This year we will be hosting the ninth University of Sydney TESOL Research Network Colloquium, an annual event which showcases research in the broad area of TESOL, and provides a forum to discuss possible collaborations in the future.

Further information on the activities of the University of Sydney TESOL Research Network can be found at:

<http://tesolresearchnetwork.blogspot.com.au>

Brian Paltridge

General Editor

University of Sydney Papers in TESOL