2018 GUEST SPEAKER

DR OLGA OLENIKOVA

Dr Olga Oleinikova is the Director of the Ukraine Democracy Initiative, co-hosted by the University of Sydney (USYD) and University of Technology Sydney (UTS). Olga is an Honorary Postdoctoral Research Fellow at The Sydney Democracy Network (USYD) and holds the position of Scholarly Teaching Fellow at the School of Communications (UTS).

Last month, Olga was featured in the Forbes 30 Under 30 as Co-Founder of Persollo, the world's 1st instant checkout platform that enables small merchants, brands and influencers to sell their goods across social networks, without the need to build sophisticated and expensive e-commerce sites or online shopping carts.

Olga is currently leading several research projects, working with the Sydney Democracy Network, WZB Berlin Social Science Research Center, The University of Oxford and Kyiv National Taras Shevchenko University. Her two main research projects are on diaspora and democracy in Ukraine, and on migration from Ukraine to Asia-Pacific following the collapse of the Soviet Union. Both projects are mixed-method studies examining the challenges, performance and prospects for democracy in Eastern Europe and Ukraine.

PRIZES IN SOCIOLOGY AND SOCIAL POLICY

UNDERGRADUATE PRIZES

THE ALAN DAVIS MEMORIAL PRIZE

This prize is awarded to the undergraduate student who has the best results in the junior sociology units SCLG1001 Introduction to Sociology 1 and SCLG1002 Introduction to Sociology II. The prize commemorates the contribution of Alan Davis, a former member of the Department. He was widely acknowledged to be an inspiring teacher – much loved by students – at both the undergraduate and postgraduate level. He carried his profound knowledge of the discipline lightly and with modesty. His passion for encouraging intellectual curiosity and learning is appropriately celebrated by this prize for first year students. He delighted in opening young minds to fresh questions by provoking students (in the gentlest possible way) with an uncertainty that moved them to seek deeper involvement and knowledge. Alan Davis made a vital contribution to the establishment of undergraduate Sociology at the University of Sydney.

BETTINA CASS PRIZE IN SOCIAL POLICY

This prize is awarded to the undergraduate student who has achieved the best results in SCPL2601 in Australian Social Policy.

Professor Bettina Cass, AO was formerly Chair and Professor of Sociology and Social Policy and Dean of the Faculty of Arts at the University of Sydney. She is internationally renowned for her research and publications in the field of social policy. Professor Cass is a Fellow of the Academy of Social Sciences in Australia. She has worked extensively with state, national and international organisations and has been the Director of a number of large government inquiries and reviews that cover areas as diverse as family policies and family income support, social security, labour market policies, the housing needs of women and children, ageing, retirement incomes and disabilities. Her contributions to this field of research as well as her on going commitment to active engagement in policy reform was recognised with an Order of Australia for services to welfare policy. She is presently a Professorial Fellow at the Social Policy Research Centre at UNSW.

SOCIO-LEGAL STUDIES PRIZE

This prize is awarded to the student who achieves the highest marks in the two junior level core units in Socio-legal Studies, SLSS1001 Introduction to Socio-Legal Studies and SLSS1003 Law and Contemporary Society.

RAEWYN CONNELL PRIZE IN SOCIOLOGICAL THEORY

This prize is awarded to the student who achieves the highest marks in the core senior level sociology unit SCLG2601 Sociological Theory. Professor Raewyn Connell holds a University Chair at the University of Sydney. Professor Connell is a Fellow of Social Sciences in Australia, a recipient of the American Sociological Association's award for distinguished contribution to the study of sex and gender, and of the Australian Sociological Association's (ASA) award for distinguished service to sociology in Australia. She has published 21 books many of which have been translated into 13 languages. In the ASA list of the most influential books in Australian sociology Professor Connell has had 4 in the top 10.

QUALITATIVE METHODS PRIZE

This prize is awarded to the student who achieves the highest marks in the core senior level sociology unit SCLG2602 Social Inquiry Methods.

QUANTITATIVE METHODS PRIZE

This prize is awarded to the student who achieves the highest marks in the core senior level sociology unit SCLG3603: Quantitative Methods for Social Science. The Department always aims to strengthen students' empirical research skills, and the introduction of quantitative methods unit is an important aspect of that aspiration.

PRIZES IN POLITICAL ECONOMY

POSTGRADUATE PRIZES

THE JO MARTINS PRIZE IN POLITICAL ECONOMY

This prize is awarded annually to the person reaching the highest standard of excellence in studies for the degree of Master in Political Economy. The Postgraduate Prize in Political Economy was established in 2012 as a result of a donation by Jo Martins.

THE FRANK STILWELL AWARD IN POLITICAL ECONOMY

Established in 2013, the Frank Stilwell Award in Political Economy supports postgraduate research students in the Department of Political Economy. The award is given to the applicant judged to be the most meritorious student by department's Scholarship Award Committee.

THE STUART ROSEWARNE PRIZE IN POLITICAL ECONOMY

This prize is awarded for the innovative development of social theory in support of progressive causes. The prize reflects Stuart Rosewarne's commitment to publicly-engaged research addressing systematic processes of social exclusion and resistance, in particular around class, gender, and the environment. The prize is awarded to a student who completes a research thesis that reflects this approach.

UNDERGRADUATE PRIZES

THE GEELUM SIMPSON-LEE PRIZE

This prize is named in honour of the economist who was the elected Dean of the Faculty of Economics at the University of Sydney in the 1970s. He facilitated the introduction of the first Political Economy course at the University in 1975. The prize is awarded annually to the top student in the second semester of the introductory units of study in undergraduate Political Economy.

THE PAUL M. SWEEZY PRIZE

This prize is named in honour of the distinguished American Marxist economist who created and edited the journal 'Monthly Review' and established Monthly Review Press. It is awarded annually to the top student in senior undergraduate units of study in Political Economy.

THE GUNNAR MYRDAL PRIZE

This prize is named in honour of the distinguished Swedish institutional economist who contributed, both in his writing and in his practical political activities, to the development of a humane approach to economic policies. It is awarded annually to the top student in the final year of study for the honours degree in Political Economy.

THE E.L. WHEELWRIGHT PRIZE

Is named in honour of Professor Ted Wheelwright who taught at the University from 1950s to 1980s. He was an inspiring teacher and contributed significantly to the establishment of the political economy courses. The prize is awarded annually to the top student in the introductory unit of study Economics as a Social Science.

MARY HENDERSON (GRETTLE) UNDERGRADUATE SCHOLARSHIP IN POLITICAL ECONOMY

Established in 2015, thanks to the generosity of Ms Mary Henderson. Sydney alumna Ms Henderson was a student in the Department of Political Economy in the early 1980s while developing a career in finance and social enterprise. Her scholarship reflects the political economy department's commitment to justice and social change, and provides financial support for students majoring in political economy.

PRIZES IN GOVERNMENT AND INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

POSTGRADUATE PRIZES

CHRISTOPHER HOOD PRIZE FOR POSTGRADUATE COURSEWORK

This prize is awarded to the postgraduate coursework student who has the best results in a calendar year in the study of public policy, administration, and affairs. Professor Christopher Hood taught in the Department of Government and International Relations for some years in the 1990s before moving first to the London School of Economics and then to All Souls College at Oxford University.

HEDLEY BULL PRIZE FOR POSTGRADUATE COURSEWORK

This prize is awarded to the postgraduate coursework student with the best results in international politics in a calendar year provided the work is of sufficient merit. Professor Hedley Bull (1932-1985) was born in Burwood, NSW. He obtained a Bachelor of Arts from the University of Sydney, graduating in 1952. He completed both honours courses in four calendar years, gaining a first in Philosophy and a second in History. The most important influence on his thinking was John Anderson, Challis Professor of Philosophy: his iconoclasm, tough realism, devotion to teaching, and love of grappling with statements of a contrary position in their strongest form, all left their mark on him.

UNDERGRADUATE PRIZES

PUBLIC SERVICE ASSOCIATION OF NEW SOUTH WALES JOHN S. D'ARCY MEMORIAL PRIZES (4)

The four D'Arcy Prizes recognise outstanding achievement by second and third year students in Government in Pass and in Honours. John Synott D'Arcy (1867-1918) was born in 1867 and died at the age of 51, at the residence of his sister, Dr Constance D'Arcy, Park Road, Paddington. He was for a number of years secretary of the Navigation Department of New South Wales, and well-known in shipping and commercial circles. He was also the president of what is now the Community and Public Sector Union in 1907 and again 1915-1916. John S. D'Arcy joined the Public Instruction Department as a junior clerk in June, 1881, and was appointed secretary of the Navigation Department in 1910, making him the permanent head of the Department. He was one of the founders of the University Club, known today as the University and Schools Club on Phillip Street in the city, and was Chairman of the Board for more than ten years. His premature death led his family, friends, and admirers to create the suite of D'Arcy Prizes.

MAYER PRIZE IN POLITICAL THEORY

This prize is awarded to a student who completes a piece of work with a major theoretical element to an exceptional standard. Emeritus Professor Henry Mayer (1919-1991), arrived in Australia in 1940 on the Dunera – a fact he never sought to exploit. He became a leading figure in the study of Australian politics and media, a public intellectual, a gadfly and enfant terrible of academia. He stood out as an undergraduate after the war at the University of Melbourne and joined the Department of Government and Public Administration at the University of Sydney in 1950. He was appointed Professor of Political Theory in 1970 and an Emeritus Professor in 1985. Thereafter he served as Visiting Professor of Sociology at the University of New South Wales and Visiting Professor in Mass Communication at Macquarie University.

STEPHEN SALSBUURY PRIZE FOR THE RELATIONSHIP OF ECONOMICS TO POLITICS

This prize is awarded to the best senior student in Government studying the relations of government and economics, provided the work is of sufficient merit. Professor Stephen Salsbury was educated at Harvard University and served as Professor of Economic History at the University of Sydney from 1979 until his untimely death on the first day of the first semester in 1999. He served as Dean a number of times. A believer in the integration of political and economic analysis, he always supported the Department of Government and International Relations and its staff and students. His publications include: 'Australia's First Bank: Fifty Years from the Wales to Westpac' (UNSW Press 1999), 'The Bull, the Bear and the Kangaroo: the History of the Sydney Stock Exchange' (Allen & Unwin 1988), and 'Pierre S. Du Pont and the Making of the Modern Corporation' (Harper & Row 1971). These works remain influential. He was a long term resident of Saint Andrews College at the University where his portrait adorns the main dining room.

TURNER PRIZE FOR FIRST YEAR GOVERNMENT

This prize is awarded for outstanding results in first year Government. Dr Ken Turner earned a Teachers' College Scholarship in the mid 1940s gaining a BA and Dip. Ed from the University of Sydney. He taught in public high schools at Maitland and then Newtown. While at Newtown he enrolled in a Bachelor of Economics, followed by a Masters degree in Government. He began teaching in the Department of Government at that time, where he remained until retirement in 1987. He was the Department's expert on Australian politics, which he taught repeatedly to huge classes of first year students. Ken's focus was political parties and NSW parliamentary politics. He has remained active in retirement. His publications include: 'House of Review? The NSW Legislative Council', 1934-1968, Sydney University Press, 196; 'The Wran Model. Electoral Politics in New South Wales 1981 and 1984,' Allen and Unwin 1985; 'A History of the Labor Party in New South Wales', 1891-1991, Melbourne, Longman Cheshire, 1991; and 'The Worldly Art of Politics'. Sydney, Federation Press, 2006.

THE HELEN NELSON PRIZE FOR BEST IV YEAR HONOURS THESIS

The prize is awarded annually, provided there is a thesis of sufficient merit. It is for the thesis component of IVth Honours alone. There are no limitations as to subject matter of the thesis. Associate Professor Helen Nelson, a graduate of the University of Western Australia, joined the Department of Government and Public Administration in 1963 as a Research Assistant. She collaborated with Professor Henry Mayer on five editions of 'Australian Politics: A Reader', which became the standard textbook in Australian politics for a generation. In 1978, Helen was appointed as a lecturer. She was promoted to Associate Professor in 1991 and shortly thereafter became the first woman to take up the position of Head of Department, a position she held until 1995. She was the first woman to serve as Sub-Dean (Undergraduate Studies) in the Faculty of Economics, 1980-83. Helen's long-term research interest lay in federalism.

G.S CAIRD AWARD IN THIRD YEAR GOVERNMENT

This prize is awarded to the best student in Government at the third year level, if work is of sufficient merit, and the student is proceeding to Government Honours. George Sutherland Caird founded the mercantile firm of Caird, Peterson & Co. Caird was interested and active in fostering higher learning; in 1886 he donated 1000 to the University of Sydney for a scholarship in chemistry, and further benefactions were made in 1918 by his younger daughter and under her will in 1923.

EMERITUS PROFESSOR F.A. BLAND PRIZE FOR GOVERNMENT III

This prize is awarded annually to the best student completing a major in Government, provided that the work is of sufficient merit. The prize is named after Professor Francis Armand Bland who long served the Department of Government at the University of Sydney. Indeed he had much to do with creating the Department.

COMMONWEALTH BANK UNDERGRADUATE SCHOLARSHIP IN GOVERNMENT

Established in 1951 by a gift from the Commonwealth Bank of Australia to provide scholarships annually to undergraduate students who demonstrate the greatest proficiency in the third-year honours courses in each of the Departments of Economics, Economic History, Industrial Relations and Government and Public Administration, and who proceed as full-time candidates to the final honours year in the same departments.

MICHAEL W JACKSON PRIZE FOR STUDY IN GOVERNMENT

Established in 2012 by a generous donation from Annie Corlett, AM this prize is named for Michael W Jackson, Professor Emeritus of Government. The prize is for study in Government at an outstanding level in IVth Honours with a commensurate record of prior study. The evidence of this achievement is the award of a university medal.
