

Sydney Health Ethics Network presents CONVERSATION

Join us for SHE Conversation: a biweekly seminar!

Sydney Health Ethics Conversation series usually take place on Thursday afternoons from 12pm to 1pm, unless otherwise noted, and will be presented both on campus (Susan Wakil Health Building, Seminar Room 411) and online wherever possible.

For those attending online, please register for each event separately so that you will receive the zoom link! After registering, you will receive a confirmation email containing information about joining the meeting.

SCHEDULE 2024

22 February 2024: "Developing a virtue ethics approach to moral responsibility and blameworthiness in professional role failures", Justin Oakley, Monash University

7 March 2024: Why Australian policy on human embryo research should change, Tamra Lysaght, Sydney Health Ethics, University of Sydney. For online attendees, please register in advance for this meeting here!

21 March 2024: "Vigilance in infectious disease emergencies and the distribution of related burdens", Jane Williams, University of Wollongong. For online attendees, please register in advance for this meeting here!

11 April 2024 with Stacy Carter, University of Wollongong and Supriya Subramani, Sydney Health Ethics, University of Sydney. For online attendees, please register in advance for this meeting here!

9 May 2024 with Suzu Killmister, Monash University and Hojjat Soofi, Sydney Health Ethics, University of Sydney. For online attendees, please register in advance for this meeting here!

23 May 2024: "Is a phenomenologically informed consent possible?", Pat McConville, Deakin University. For online attendees, please register in advance for this meeting here!

