

Using PROMs "Down Under"

July 8-9, 2021 – The University of Sydney

A Conference on using Patient-Reported Outcome Measures (PROMs)

Supported by the International Society of Quality of Life (ISOQOL)  @SydneyQOLO

#PROMS2021

Conference on Using Patient-Reported Outcome Measures (PROMs) in Research and Clinical Practice

Hosted by the Sydney Quality of Life Office, University of Sydney

8–9 July 2021

About the Conference

This two-day event, hosted by the Sydney Quality of Life Office at the University of Sydney and supported by the International Society for Quality of Life Research (ISOQOL), will include a 1-day conference with a mix of plenary sessions, oral presentations and posters, as well as specialist workshops on Day 2. This unique virtual event will bring together leading international experts, researchers, and clinicians to engage with the latest advances in the field of patient-reported outcomes (PROs) research and implementation. This year's conference will provide opportunities for collaboration and knowledge dissemination, and facilitate multi-disciplinary, cross-state and country research underpinned by rigorous PRO science and methodology.

The main conference day is Thursday, 8 July 2021

REGISTER HERE

Full fee $130

Student/ISOQOL members $100

 COVID-19 *****

Due to the uncertainty around COVID-19 travel and meeting restrictions, both the PROMS2021 conference and specialist workshops will be delivered as virtual events.

The Conference Day Program will be made available soon. Keep checking the Sydney QOL Office website for further updates. While we are adding the final touches to the program, we are pleased to introduce our confirmed speakers below. You can also view the speaker bios here.

THE SPEAKERS

'Do you see what I see? PRO measurement in clinical practice and research'

Professor Nancy Mayo, McGill University Health Centre Research Institute, Canada.

Prof Mayo is our Keynote Speaker.

'PROMs – evidence based necessity or current fad in improving patient outcomes?'

Professor Sanchia Aranda, Chief Executive Role Cancer Council Australia.

'PROMs Down Under: Where have we been and where should we go next?'

Professor Afaf Girgis, Director Psycho-oncology Research Group, Centre for Oncology Education and Research Translation (CONCERT), Ingham Institute for Applied Medical Research.

'NSW Health approach to PRMs – overcoming challenges, achievements to date and future plans'

Mrs Melissa Tinsley, Manager for Clinical Information and Decision Support at the NSW Agency for Clinical Innovation.

'Patient-Reported Measures in NSW Health Cancer Services'

Mrs Sandra Leon, Project Manager for the Cancer Institute NSW's Patient Reported Measures Project.

WORKSHOPS

Day 1 Thursday, 8 July 2021

Conference program will be available soon.

Day 2 Friday, 9 July 2021

Morning (9:00am – 12:00pm):

- WS1: Trial design and conduct: An introduction to SPIRIT PRO and strategies for reducing missing data
- WS2: Interpreting group differences and individual change: WORKSHOP 2 CANCELLED
- WS3: Implementation Science and Patient Reported Outcome Measures in Routine Care

Afternoon (1:00pm – 4:00pm):

- WS4: PRO assessment in a multi-cultural context: Cross-cultural language translation and validation
- WS5: Key considerations for selecting PROs and QOL measures for clinical research and health economics
- WS6: Inclusion of patient reported outcome measures (PROMs) within health systems or services

REGISTER FOR WORKSHOPS HERE

#PROMS2021