

Veterinary Clinical Residency Positions currently available at the University Veterinary Teaching Hospital

The Sydney School of Veterinary Science is currently recruiting for specialty residents in the following fields:

- Equine Medicine
- Feline Medicine
- Veterinary Oncology

These three-year, full-time programs will enable the successful applicants to fulfil the credentialing requirements for specialisation for specialist examination by the Australian and New Zealand College of Veterinary Scientists and/or relevant overseas colleges. The residencies are directly supervised by board-certified specialists. The program requires completion of concurrent Masters degrees in coursework and research, and a tax-free stipend of $43,500 pa is available for the most outstanding applicant.

The closing date for applications is COB Thursday 20 February 2020.
Interviews will occur shortly afterwards.

Applications are restricted to veterinarians with a degree registerable in New South Wales. Candidates must have an Honours degree or equivalent as well as Australian citizenship or Australian permanent residency.

Applicants must have completed a rotating internship or have equivalent clinical experience in practice.

To apply, please submit an application form and any relevant documentation, as well as two referee reports via email to vetsci.education@sydney.edu.au.

- Application form
- Referee report (note that these must be sent directly from the referee themselves)

For further information:

Website: http://sydney.edu.au/vetscience/clinical_residency/
Phone: 02 9351 8783
Email: vetsci.education@sydney.edu.au