

THE UNIVERSITY OF SYDNEY

Postgraduate Research Scholarship in Athlete Development Transition

As part of 'Project H2gr0w' (<https://www.swimming.org.au/projecth2gr0w>) and a long-term research partnership between Swimming Australia and The University of Sydney, a full-time PhD scholarship is available. The successful applicant will be a graduate, eligible to undertake PhD level research study, and interested in examining Athlete Development transition. The PhD will be performed jointly at The University of Sydney and at various Swimming Australia locations (NSW; Queensland). Supervisors from both institutions will oversee the research program.

For further information on the research area, please e-mail Assoc. Professor Steve Copley at stephen.copley@sydney.edu.au
