The audition registration process

Audition information and how to apply

Entry into the Sydney Conservatorium of Music (SCM) requires a successful audition or interview. As part of your application for an undergraduate Music degree to the University of Sydney, you must register for your audition or interview via the SCM's official audition portal: Acceptd.

Registration Process
At the start of the registration process, you will be asked to nominate the degree and program for which you are applying. Please refer to Table 2.

1. Apply.
2. Register audition / interview, book a timeslot.
3. Check email for a confirmation of your audition or interview.

When to register
Audition/interview registration opens in Acceptd in April and closes in September.

Audition dates
Audition and interview dates are held in the first week of NSW school holidays in July and September. You can choose which month you would like to participate in. Refer to Table 1 of this guide for the latest information.

Live performance auditions are held at:
Sydney Conservatorium of Music 1 Conservatorium Rd, Sydney (just off Macquarie Street – look for the castle)

Video performance audition
If you live outside Sydney and cannot travel to the Conservatorium for a live audition, you may submit a video audition. You can do this by uploading your video file in Acceptd. The video file can be an unlisted video to a video hosting service (such as YouTube or Youku or equivalent) and cannot be larger than 5GB. The video types that you can upload are: MP4, M4V, AVI, FLV, MOV, WMV, MPG, MPEG, M2V, MKV, WEBM.

As your video audition will be a performance, we suggest that you consider wearing appropriate on-stage attire.

Interviews
Interviews for candidates applying in Composition / Composition for Creative Industries / Digital Music Composition / Contemporary Music / Musicology will be held via Zoom unless otherwise stated. You will submit your portfolio of works and schedule your interview time in Acceptd. The interview is just an informal chat about your submitted work, your interest in your chosen area, and your plans for pursuing your studies.

Music Theatre applications
Please note that the registration cut-off date is earlier than in other program areas. Make sure you diarise the live call-back audition date (listed in the Music Theatre section) so you can plan ahead in case you are invited. You must submit your audition video(s) in Acceptd. If you pass the video audition stage, you will be invited to attend a live audition at the Conservatorium on 28 Sept 2024.

Auditioning for more than one program area or degree
Audition per degree in your chosen instrument/voice

The degree you nominate in your audition registration should be for the course you would most like to do, and this means that the audition you present will be specifically for this degree.

Carefully read through your instrument or voice audition criteria of the degree for which you are auditioning for because you may need to register and audition on more than one occasion if you are considering more than one degree.

For example, if you are considering both BMus(Perf) and BMus(MusEd) in classical piano, you will be required to register and audition twice, i.e. 1 x Acceptd registration with audition for BMus(Perf) and another Acceptd registration with audition for BMus(MusEd). This is because there is different performance attainment of each degree. Please refer to Table of Contents for where to find the specific audition requirements for your chosen degree/s.

Audition per program area

If you are interested in auditioning in more than one instrument or program area, you must register a separate audition in Acceptd for each area.

Further audition detail

On the day of your live audition

You will be directed where to go once you have arrived and signed in for your audition. Please arrive approximately 30 minutes before your audition is scheduled. You will be offered a short warm-up period immediately prior to your audition. As your audition will be a performance, we suggest that you consider wearing appropriate on-stage attire.

Please note that if you receive a successful audition result, it will be for the degree you nominated in your audition registration. If you receive an audition result in more than one program area, you will be required to choose one instrument/program only.
Prefering for your audition

To study at the Sydney Conservatorium of Music, you will need to audition or attend an interview. This can be a nerve-racking experience, but it doesn’t have to be. An audition is your opportunity to show us your abilities, and it allows us to assess your skills and discuss your commitment. You can register for your audition or interview when our online audition portal Acceptd opens for applications.

Here are four tips from those who’ve previously applied to help you prepare for your audition:

1. It’s not what you play that counts, it’s how you play
   When selecting repertoire, you want to play it comfortably and well. A piece that’s achievable is better than going for something that’s too difficult. The audition panel will look for quality of performance.

2. Double check all of your audition requirements
   Make sure you follow the audition requirements for your specialisation. If you’re auditioning on an orchestral instrument or voice, remember you need to have an accompanist.

3. It all comes down to sound quality
   Whatever equipment you’re using to record your audition, do your best to maximise the sound quality by choosing your location carefully. If you can, try and use an ensemble room or recital hall. It doesn’t need to be recorded professionally—a simple ZOOM recording is enough.

4. Show your personality
   An audition panel consists of musicians. Show them that you’re one too and that you have a passion for music. Be technically proficient, but don’t fret about technique—they’ll be on the lookout for potential.
Find a Collaborative Pianist

If you are attending a live audition and your work requires accompaniment, you must provide your own collaborative pianist. If circumstances prevent you from attending a live audition, you may submit an audio-visual audition recording. While it is preferred that you play with an accompanist, there will be no disadvantage if you submit a recording of your unaccompanied performance. We will not accept the use of a recorded accompaniment.

If you do not already have one, and if you have registered for a live audition, the following information can assist you in finding an accompanist.

Sydney Conservatorium of Music collaborative pianists

Alan Hicks: alan.hicks@sydney.edu.au
Theresa Leung: theresa.leung@sydney.edu.au
Ingrid Sakurov: ingrid.sakurov@sydney.edu.au

Accompanists’ Guild of NSW – Find an Accompanist:

http://accompanistsguildofnsw.org.au/accompanists/

Please note:

- Any arrangement for payment is solely between the applicant and collaborative pianist.
- The Sydney Conservatorium of Music is not responsible for any services and fees.
- This suggested list is optional only, and there is no requirement to engage with a collaborative pianist from the list provided.
Degrees with additional criteria

Diploma of Music

The Diploma of Music is a two-year undergraduate course that will provide you with vocational training in the music skills of a Program Area. It can be used as a pathway to a Bachelor of Music degree, and is also available as a standalone specialist degree in Performance, Composition, Contemporary Music Practice, Composition for Creative Industries, or Digital Music Composition.

To be considered for the Diploma of Music, you must pass an audition and/or interview with a submitted UAC application in the equivalent Bachelor of Music degree, after which your entry will depend on your intention and circumstances.

We issue the Diploma in one of two ways:

1. As a pathway to a Bachelor of Music degree when the academic requirement (70 ATAR) has not been achieved (with a successful audition result and a submitted UAC application).
2. As a standalone degree if there is no intention to pursue Bachelor studies (with a successful audition result and a submitted UAC application).

Diploma application process

1. Register for an audition via our online audition portal Accepted.
2. Apply for a Bachelor of Music degree in your chosen Program Area.
3. Email the Sydney Conservatorium of Music – con.apply@sydney.edu.au – to confirm your preference for studying the Diploma.

Audition/Interview Assessment

The type of audition for entry into the Diploma is determined by the program stream you have chosen. Please follow the specific audition requirements of your chosen area, for example:

Performance

You are required to undertake an audition – please refer to the specific instrument/vocal audition requirements in this guide (classical, drum set, jazz, historical or Chinese instrumental performance).

Composition

You are required to submit a portfolio and attend an interview via Zoom – please refer to the Composition requirements in this guide.

Contemporary Music Practice

You are required to submit two original contemporary music tracks/songs and attend an interview via Zoom – please refer to the Contemporary Music requirements in this guide.

You can refer to our website for further information on the application and audition registration process.

Note:

Applicants do not apply for the Diploma of Music. We will note your intention when processing (a) your application for a Bachelor of Music, and (b) your email that confirms your preference for the Diploma.
Degrees with additional criteria

Bachelor of Music (Music Education)

The Bachelor of Music (Music Education) is for students interested in pursuing a career as a music teacher in either the primary or secondary school environment. You will develop teaching skills through studies in education, music education, choral and instrumental pedagogy, and music technology.

Music Education candidates are required to undertake a principal study in performance, or a Program Area in composition, contemporary music, or musicology as part of their degree. Applicants must apply for the degree, undertake a successful audition/interview, and fulfil the additional criteria listed below for entry into the Bachelor of Music (Music Education).

Interview

Candidates in all streams must also undertake an additional short interview with one of the Academic Staff from the Music Education division (typically the Program Leader).

Prerequisites

The entry standard for school leavers into initial undergraduate teacher education degrees is three HSC Band 5 results, including one in English.

UAC requirement

You are required to fulfil prerequisites and submit a teaching questionnaire direct to the Universities Admissions Centre (UAC).

The Bachelor of Music (Music Education) is a professional accredited degree. There are specific criteria for entry into this degree – please see the prerequisites listed.

When using your smartphone or other devices to record your performance:

- Record in one continuous take, without cuts or edits. You may choose to record individual pieces or movements separately.
- Place your recording device in a horizontal, i.e. ‘landscape’ position.
- Remember that audio quality is more important than video quality.
- Ensure the room you record in is well lit and quiet. Avoid bright side light or back light. The best location to film is usually with you facing a window.
- Place your device on a tripod or makeshift stand, i.e. not handheld.
- Check that Flight mode is turned on and Wireless is turned off, so you receive no calls or messages during the recording.

- Note that while you can use recording software such as Adobe’s Premiere Rush to record yourself, the standard Camera applications on iOS and Android devices are usually sufficient to obtain good quality results.
- Make sure your camera is set to record at 720p HD at 30fps, if you are using an iPhone or an Android device. This is set in the Camera Settings within the Settings application. Recording at higher quality settings is not necessary for evaluation and will significantly impact the upload time of your final recording.

Keep in mind that it’s the quality of your performance that matters most, not the quality of your recording.

Audition Requirements for Performance Degrees

There are two parts to the Music Theatre audition:

- Part 1: All applicants – video submission (introduction, singing, acting)
- Part 2: Call-back, invited applicants only – live audition.

Part 1:

Personal Introduction – video submission

A short 1–2 minute video introduction. This short introductory video should be filmed ‘straight to camera’ and should show your personality, experience/background, and reasons for wanting to pursue a career in music theatre.

Singing – video submission

1. Legitimate Music Theatre Song or Operetta, pre 1965 (e.g. Rodgers and Hammerstein, Porter, Kern, Bernstein)

Acting Audition – video submission

1. Refer to Set Monologue (image 1a next page). Please learn from ‘dictionary...’ to ‘...toes’. Note that ‘bloke’ is a particular word that has different connotations for everyone. Feel free to translate ‘bloke’ into any gender/character type that works for your given circumstances
2. Own choice of monologue, not exceeding 2 minutes.

Part 2:

Call-back LIVE audition at the Conservatorium

28 September 2024

You will be notified of the result of your part 1 video audition. Successful applicants will then be invited to attend a call-back live audition round at the Conservatorium. The live audition round will involve dance, singing and acting. Specific details will be outlined in your invitation.

Audition registration deadline:
8 September 2024

Call-back live audition date:

Music Education Degree Information

Bachelor of Music (Music Education)

The Bachelor of Music (Music Education) is for students interested in pursuing a career as a music teacher in the secondary school environment. You will develop teaching skills through studies in education, music education, choral and instrumental pedagogy, and music technology.

Music Education candidates are required to undertake a principal study in performance, or a program area in composition, contemporary music, or musicology as part of their degree. Applicants must apply for the degree, undertake a successful audition/interview, and fulfil the additional criteria listed below for entry into the Bachelor of Music (Music Education).

Audition/Interview Assessment
The audition type depends upon the principal study/specialisation you have chosen.

Performance
You are required to undertake an audition – please refer to the principal study audition requirements in this guide (classical, drum set, jazz, historical or non-western performance).

Composition
You are required to submit a portfolio and attend an interview via Zoom – please refer to the Composition requirements in this guide.

Contemporary Music Practice
You are required to submit two original contemporary music tracks/songs and attend an interview via Zoom – please refer to the Contemporary Music requirements in this guide.

Musicology
You are required to submit written work and attend an interview via Zoom – please refer to the Musicology requirements in this guide.

Interview
Candidates in all streams must also undertake an additional short interview via Zoom with one of the Academic Staff from the Music Education division (typically the Program Leader).

Prerequisites
The entry standard for school leavers into initial undergraduate teacher education degrees is three HSC Band 5 results, including one in English.

UAC requirement
You are required to fulfil prerequisites and submit a teaching questionnaire direct to the Universities Admissions Centre (UAC).

The Bachelor of Music (Music Education) is a professional accredited degree. There are specific criteria for entry into this degree – please see the prerequisites listed.

Digital Music Composition

Bachelor of Music
Diploma of Music

You are required to:

1. Submit a portfolio of three original works
2. Attend an interview via Zoom

Portfolio

Portfolio: The three works will ideally consist of contrasting media, for example: electroacoustic, film, game, sound-design, electronic music. All works must be submitted as audio or video. Inclusion of one or more complementary notated scores is optional.

Interview

During your interview you will be required to discuss your interest in Digital Music Composition, your relevant work, and your plans for future studies in this area.

Here is an example of how your portfolio may look:

Work 1: audio or video | Work 2: audio or video | Work 3: audio or video (and optional score).
The Contemporary Music Practice (CMP) program is for budding musicians interested in learning the craft of songwriting, either as a solo singer/songwriter or with bands, and how to produce it. Students will be immersed in writing songs, performing on stage and learning their way around music production techniques.

CMP applicants applying for the Bachelor of Music (Music Education) degree undertake a successful submission of song tracks and an interview, and fulfil the additional criteria listed in page 08.
You are required to:

1. Submit two original contemporary music tracks/songs (5–8 minutes of music in total)
2. Submit a written explanation of your involvement in the composition process, for example in songwriting
3. Attend an interview via Zoom.

Portfolio

To submit your video portfolio, you can provide:

I. Audio or video material streamed on YouTube, SoundCloud, Unearthed or another easily accessible platform
II. A link to streamed content on one of the above-mentioned platforms
III. A link to a mp4 or mp3 file on a file sharing site like Dropbox, Google Drive or equivalent.

Written Explanation

You are required to outline your role in creating the music submitted (instruments played, sound engineering, production, song writing etc).

Interview

During your interview you will be required to discuss your interest in Contemporary Music Practice, your relevant work, and your plans for future studies in this area.
Musicology
Degree Information

Musicologists are interested in how music is made, how people listen to music and why music is heard in particular ways. Musicology is the perfect choice if you are interested in the history of music, how music is constructed, or the ways it is understood and used by people around the world.

Musicology applicants applying for the Bachelor of Music (Music Education) degree undertake a successful submission of written work and an interview, and fulfil the additional criteria listed in page 08.

Audition/Interview Assessment
Musicology

You are required to submit written work and attend an interview via Zoom – please refer to the Musicology requirements in this guide.
You are required to:

1. Submit one or two examples of your recent written work on a music-related topic. This can be a school essay or similar, amounting to at least one thousand words.
2. Attend an interview via Zoom.

Written work

Your sample of written work should demonstrate your ability to write in a reasonably formal style, to synthesise ideas from the work of others, and ideally, to contribute your own thoughts to the discussion. You may, for example, submit a final-year school essay, or choose to prepare something new.

Interview

In your interview you will be required to discuss your interest in musicology and your commitment to musical research. Based on the written work and the interview, the Conservatorium will assess your suitability for the course here and your potential for musicology, whether as a professional musicologist or in a related profession such as teaching, music administration or music journalism.
