FLIGHT GUIDE TO SOLO

Solo is primarily served by Adi Soemarmo International Airport (SOC). While often referred to as "International" in its official name, it currently operates almost exclusively as a domestic hub with frequent connections to major Indonesian cities like Jakarta and Denpasar.

If your travel requires international arrival or you are looking for broader flight connectivity, you may choose to fly into nearby airports in Yogyakarta or Semarang and transfer to Solo by land.

1. Adi Soemarmo Airport (SOC)

This is the most convenient option for reaching Solo directly, as it serves as the city's dedicated gateway. It currently operates primarily as a domestic hub with robust connectivity to major Indonesian cities like Jakarta and Denpasar. The airport is located quite close to the city center, typically requiring only a short taxi or ride-hailing journey of about 20 to 30 minutes to reach your final destination within Solo.

TRANSPORTATION OPTIONS

FLIGHT GUIDE TO SOLO

2. Yogyakarta International Airport (YIA)

Serving as a primary regional hub, this airport is an excellent choice for travelers arriving on international flights or those looking for a wider variety of flight schedules. Because it is located approximately 110 kilometers from Solo, you will need to plan for a transfer, which is most efficiently handled by taking the airport train to Yogyakarta's city center, followed by a connecting train to Solo Balapan Station. While this adds travel time compared to flying directly to Solo, the rail connection is reliable and comfortable, offering a scenic look at the landscape between the two cities.

3. Ahmad Yani International Airport Semarang (SRG)

Ahmad Yani International Airport (SRG) in Semarang provides another viable transit point, especially if your itinerary involves arrival from the northern coast of Java. Upon landing in Semarang, you can reach Solo by either utilizing a direct shuttle service or by taking a taxi to one of the city's main railway stations to catch an intercity train. Like the route from Yogyakarta, this journey typically requires a few hours of travel time, making it a functional secondary choice depending on your specific flight arrival times and total travel budget.

TRANSPORTATION IN SOLO
