

AUSTRALIAN FOOD, SOCIETY AND CULTURE
NETWORK SYMPOSIUM
FOOD PARADOXES: EQUITY, ACCESS AND EXCESS
2016 Program

Friday January 22nd 10 – 5 pm

Seminar room 5050, level 5, Abercrombie Building, University of Sydney

21-25 Codrington St, Darlington

<http://sydney.edu.au/maps/campuses/>

Session	Presentation title	Presenter	Session Chair
10 am	Workshop opening Welcome to country	Megan Warin and Teresa Davis
10.10 – 10.40 am	The Scottish paradox: Representing food and nutrition north of the border	Christine Knight (University of Edinburgh)	Megan Warin
10.40 – 11.10 am	Contradictions of convenience: Technology, family and food practices	Bridget Jay (University of Adelaide)
11.10 – 11:30 am	Morning Tea
11:30 – 12 pm	Nutritional primitivism and superfoods: Between commodification and critique	Jessica Loyer (University of Adelaide) & Christine Knight (University of Edinburgh)	Teresa Davis
12 – 12:30 pm	“But it’s not natural ”: Understanding the public understanding of science in food production	Rachel Ankeny and Heather Bray (University of Adelaide)
12:30 – 1 pm	The Illusion of Democracy in Online Consumer Restaurant Reviews	Morag Kobez- Halvorson (Queensland University of Technology)
1 – 1:45 pm	Lunch
1:45 – 2:15 pm	Foodscapes of children with Autism Spectrum Disorders	Jessie Gunson (Flinders University) (presenting), Jessie Young, Kerrie Lante, John Coveney and Paul Ward	Heather Bray
2:15 – 2:45 pm	Young slim bodies and the paradox of consumer ‘choice’	Teresa Davis (Sydney University)

2.45 – 3.15 pm	Planning our food future: A study of the socio-cultural dimensions of food security for inner city residents of Sydney	Alana Mann (University of Sydney) presenting, Elspeth Probyn, Margaret Allman-Farinelli, Brian Jones, Bill Pritchard, David Schlosberg and Luke Craven.
3.15 – 3.45 pm	The paradoxes and pitfalls of obesity research: Representation, knowledge and identity politics	Megan Warin (University of Adelaide)
3.45 – 4 pm 4-5 pm	Workshop close Networking and refreshments		