

27 August 2025

We recognise that reflecting on experiences of racism can be distressing. If you need support, you can find a range of services on the Health and wellbeing page, including TalkCampus for free and instant support.

Racism@Uni

Dear students,

By participating in the Racism@Uni Survey, you can make your voice count.

Last week, you should have received an invitation to participate in the Racism@Uni Survey. It is important that as many staff and students as possible complete the survey, so that the data reflects the views and experiences of university students and staff across Australia.

If you complete the survey, you can choose to enter a prize draw to receive one of fifty $50 gift vouchers.

The Racism@Uni Survey is anonymous, and your participation will be confidential.

If you have already completed the survey, we thank you for doing so.

If you are yet to complete it, here is your unique link to the survey and further information:

Unique survey URL

The Racism@Uni Survey is being conducted by POLIS: Centre for Social Policy Research at the Australian National University on behalf of the Australian Human Rights Commission. The survey findings will inform the Commission's Racism@Uni: A National Study for Change Report.

While you are encouraged to take part, participation is entirely voluntary. If you do not wish to participate, simply disregard this email along with any future reminder emails. If you have already completed the survey, thank you for your valuable contribution to our study and please disregard this email. For anonymity purposes we do not know who has and hasn't completed the survey.

For further information on the survey, please visit the Australian Human Rights Commission website.

Kind regards,

The Racism@Uni Survey team.

Australian Human Rights Commission

Australian
National University

The University of Sydney None | NSW, None 2006 AU

This email was sent to .

To continue receiving our emails, add us to your address book.

Subscribe to our email list.