1800 SYD UNI (1800 793 864)

Congratulations! You've been invited to become a Dalyell Scholar. You and your fellow high-achieving students will engage in experiences that will extend your academic abilities, develop your leadership capabilities and expand your global network.

This booklet is a guide for all your questions about becoming a Dalyell Scholar, and points you to resources for help along the way.

The Dalyell stream gives you access to units of study that are available only to Dalyell Scholars. It also provides tailored mentoring and professional skills development, accelerated learning opportunities and overseas experiences, including a global mobility scholarship.

As a Dalyell Scholar, you will be challenged academically, have opportunities to cultivate professional expertise and leadership, and become part of a worldwide network of leaders as you join the ranks of our most distinguished alumni.

The Dalyell stream is named after Elsie Jean Dalyell OBE (pronounced “dee-ell”), a remarkable alumna of the University of Sydney. Elsie (1881–1948) was a distinguished medical graduate and the first woman to become a full-time academic in our Faculty of Medicine.

Find out more about Elsie at:

– sydney.edu.au/dalyell-scholars

What does it mean to be a Dalyell Scholar?

The University expects and supports every Dalyell Scholar to attain three key qualities. By the time you complete the Dalyell stream, you will be able to:

- analyse and interpret complex scenarios, structure problems and develop effective interdisciplinary, novel or research-based solutions to tackle systemic societal and global problems
- demonstrate a high degree of capability, resilience and agility in operating across cultural boundaries and engage ethically, respectfully and professionally in inter- and cross-cultural settings and on the world stage
- integrate deep disciplinary knowledge and synthesise multiple viewpoints, practices or disciplines into your own perspective and use this to influence others.

The intention for Dalyell Scholars is that you will cultivate the above qualities to a high level through both the academic and co-curricular opportunities available within the stream.

Accepting your offer

Entry to the Dalyell stream is available for students applying to the University for the first time, or after one year of full-time tertiary study, or equivalent credit points if you have been studying part time.

If you are entering the Dalyell stream after completing one year of study with the University of Sydney, you will be asked to accept your Dalyell Scholars invitation within Sydney Student. This option will appear in your Sydney Student ‘My Studies’ screen.

Q. My offer specifically states “Dalyell Scholars” in the course title. Do I still have to accept the separate offer to be a Dalyell Scholar?

A. Yes, you need to accept the separate offer to activate your Dalyell Scholar status.

Q. If I initially do not accept my offer to become a Dalyell Scholar but then change my mind, can I accept the offer later?

A. Yes, you will still be able to accept your offer to become a Dalyell Scholar at enrolment. However, you will not be able to access this offer after the enrolment period for your course closes for your first semester (generally the second Friday after classes start). For important University dates, please visit sydney.edu.au/dates

Q. If I decline my offer to become a Dalyell Scholar, can I still accept my place in my course?

A. Yes, your offer to become a Dalyell Scholar is separate to your course offer.

Q. I haven’t been made an offer to join the Dalyell stream although I attained an ATAR of 98+. Why haven’t I been invited to join the stream?

A. The Dalyell stream is not available in all degrees. For a full list of degrees in which you can take the Dalyell stream, please visit sydney.edu.au/dalyell-scholars

Q. I haven't been made an offer to join the Dalyell stream on starting my studies at the University as I did not meet the requirements. Can I join the Dalyell stream later in my degree? What is the process?

A. Yes, you will be invited to join the Dalyell stream after you have completed one year of full-time study if you achieve a cross-semester average mark (CSAM) of 80+ and you are studying a course in which the Dalyell stream is available.

If this is the case, your eligibility to join the stream will automatically be assessed after you have completed 48 credit points at the University. You will be able to accept your invitation to join the Dalyell stream by accessing Sydney Student and selecting the 'My Studies' tab.

Q. What if I've gained entry into a course that offers the Dalyell stream and I have received credit for my prior studies?

A. It's important to consider whether you have the capacity to accommodate the required 12 credit points of Dalyell units. Please discuss this with your Dalyell faculty lead; found here:

– sydney.edu.au/handbooks/dalyell-stream

Q. I've accepted an offer to become a Dalyell Scholar and I'm taking a combined degree. Which faculty manages my Dalyell stream?

A. Start by searching for your degree at sydney.edu.au/courses

The faculty administering this degree will be listed under 'Course details'. You can then look up the relevant faculty handbook at sydney.edu.au/handbooks for course rules and resolutions.

Dalyell coordinator

Once you become a Dalyell Scholar, you will be contacted by a Dalyell coordinator from your faculty who will be your main point of contact. If you are unsure of who your Dalyell coordinator is, or if you have questions before you join the stream, you can contact the Dalyell faculty lead. A list of leads for each faculty is found in the 2020 Interdisciplinary Studies Handbook.

– sydney.edu.au/handbooks/dalyell-stream

Enrolling in your course

You can enrol in your course about 24 hours after accepting your University offer. As a Dalyell Scholar, you will have access to a list of exclusive Dalyell units on your 'Unit of study selection' screen.

You do not have to take these Dalyell units in your first year of study, although we recommend that you take at least one to avoid enrolment constraints later in your degree.

Please see the list of Dalyell units in the Interdisciplinary Studies Handbook.

– sydney.edu.au/handbooks/dalyell-units

You need to complete 12 credit points of Dalyell units to satisfy the Dalyell stream requirements and graduate as a Dalyell Scholar at the completion of your degree.

Dalyell units of study are available exclusively to Dalyell Scholars. They cannot be core units within degrees, streams, programs or majors. Dalyell units will help you cultivate the University's graduate qualities to a high level by:

- drawing on the best available expertise in the University and challenging you to gain greater depth of understanding and breadth of learning
- emphasising societal contribution and/or a high level of capability in operating across disciplinary and cultural boundaries, and
- cultivating the vision, adaptability and perspective that will equip you to tackle the global challenges of the future.

Q. My degree program has an Open Learning Environment (OLE) credit point requirement. Do I need to complete 12 credit points of OLE units of study?

A. Dalyell Scholars enrolled in a degree with an OLE credit point requirement are required to complete a minimum of six credit points of OLE. If you want to complete OLE units totalling more than six credit points, this may be possible by taking additional OLE units in place of electives.

Q. Do I have to complete the Dalyell units offered by my home faculty, or can I take any unit in the suite of Dalyell units available in the shared pool?

A. You can complete any unit in the Dalyell table, regardless of the faculty offering the units and you are encouraged to consider Dalyell units offered by other faculties as well as your own. Please see the list of Dalyell units in the Interdisciplinary Studies Handbook.

– sydney.edu.au/handbooks/dalyell-units

Q. How do the Dalyell units fit into my degree structure?

A. Your Dalyell units will typically replace electives in your degree, and can be taken in your first, second or third year, depending on how you choose to structure your course. See the example degree structures to the right.

Q. My degree program has a different structure and I don't know when I should enrol in my Dalyell units. What should I do?

A. You should contact your Dalyell coordinator or faculty lead who can advise you.

Q. What if I want to do a Dalyell unit but I have already used up my 12 credit points of required Dalyell units of study?

A. It is possible to take additional Dalyell units of study as electives if you have space in your degree. Please contact our Student Centre for further information.

Connect with other Dalyell Scholars

Dalyell Scholars form a group of high-achieving students who are studying across various faculties, schools and disciplines. Along with the academic opportunities on offer, your community of Dalyell Scholars will develop vision, adaptability and the capability to understand and operate across disciplinary and cultural boundaries.

You will have several opportunities to connect with other Dalyell Scholars both in your faculty and across the wider University at events organised for Dalyell Scholars.

Dalyell Scholars e-Community

When you join the stream, during the first week of semester, the University will automatically add you to the Dalyell Scholars e-Community in Canvas (the University's online learning management system). This e-Community allows you to interact with your peers who are enrolled in the stream and come from a wide range of courses across the University. Announcements are regularly posted by Dalyell faculty leads; this is a great way to find out about co-curricular aspects of the stream, and receive important messages from your faculty.

Q. How do I find other Dalyell Scholars in my faculty?

A. Your Dalyell coordinator or faculty lead will contact you soon after you enrol. They are your best resource for connecting with other Dalyell Scholars in your faculty.

Mentoring and professional skills development

We offer mentoring to provide advice and help you develop your leadership potential and associated capabilities such as self-awareness and community contribution. The Dalyell stream provides a variety of mentoring opportunities across three stages.

The first stage involves peer-to-peer mentoring so you can get to know your fellow Dalyell Scholars and transition successfully to university.

Stage two includes academic mentoring to help you think about your personal, educational and professional goals.

In the third stage, you will have access to professional mentoring from alumni professionals and academics to explore career pathways as you prepare to enter the workforce.

Q. How do I get a Dalyell mentor?

A. Your Dalyell coordinator or faculty lead will provide you with details about the mentoring program in your faculty.

Q. Do I have to participate in the mentoring program every year?

A. Mentoring is optional each year. However, as it is a key feature of the Dalyell stream, we encourage you to participate.

Acceleration and enrichment units

As a Dalyell Scholar, you will have early access to more advanced units of study in your chosen field and enrichment units outside of your discipline that enhance the depth and breadth of your study.

Accelerated enrolment means you can take units at a higher level than your current year of enrolment, as long as the units are within the same field of study as your selected program, major(s) or minor(s).

Some degrees offer the opportunity to substitute units in the curriculum with units offering advanced understanding, additional content or research. You may substitute these for units in your core or program, major or minor. These will contribute to the credit point requirement for those components of your degree. Your Dalyell coordinator or faculty lead can guide you on opportunities that may be available in your degree in 2020.

You may also take enrichment units as electives from a pre-approved list outside your area of study – and you do not need to have completed prerequisites for these. Enrichment opportunities offer research and entrepreneurship experiences in academic, industry and community settings.

Units of study on offer as enrichment opportunities are listed in the 2020 Interdisciplinary Studies Handbook.

– sydney.edu.au/handbooks/dalyell-enrichment-units

Q. How do I access acceleration and enrichment opportunities?

A. Your Dalyell coordinator or faculty lead will advise on acceleration opportunities. You will need to seek permission to enrol in the unit of study that you wish to take as an acceleration opportunity. You can do this by logging into Sydney Student.

- sydney.edu.au/handbooks/dalyell-enrichment-units

You are able to enrol in enrichment units of study via the special permission process, as long as they are not offered more than two years beyond your current level of enrolment.

For example, as a first-year Dalyell Scholar, you can enrol in 2000 and 3000-level units of study from the list of enrichment units. When you enter your second year, you will be able to access units of study up to 4000-level from the enrichment list.

Q. I don't have enough elective space in my degree to access enrichment units. Can I still complete the Dalyell stream?

A. Enrichment units are not compulsory. The only units that are required to complete the Dalyell stream are the Dalyell units.

Q. Are acceleration and enrichment units different to the Dalyell units?

A. Yes, you need to complete the 12 credit points of Dalyell units to be recognised as a Dalyell Scholar. Acceleration and enrichment units are optional opportunities.

Global mobility opportunities

Your Dalyell Scholar status entitles you to a global mobility scholarship of $2000. We encourage you to use this towards either a short-term (winter, summer or internship) mobility opportunity worth at least six credit points, or a semester exchange worth 24 credit points.

Q. Where do I find information about studying overseas, including partner institutions and how to apply?

A. The University has student exchange agreements with around 290 partner universities from 43 countries, and a range of short-term and semester exchange programs to choose from. The best place to start is the Sydney Abroad website.

- sydney.edu.au/studyabroad

There you will find a number of helpful resources, including links to a comprehensive guide and the global mobility database where you can browse available overseas options and search for an opportunity suited to your needs.

Q. How can I access the global mobility scholarship?

A. Once you apply for and are accepted into a global mobility program, you will be required to apply for the Dalyell scholarship via an online application, providing details of your acceptance into this program. For the global mobility scholarship terms and conditions and application portal, visit:

- sydney.edu.au/students/dalyell-scholars

Q. If I choose not to study abroad, am I still able to apply for the global mobility scholarship?

A. Unfortunately not – this scholarship aims to encourage Dalyell Scholars to have a truly global experience while studying at the University of Sydney.

Progression within the Dalyell stream

As a Dalyell Scholar, you are expected to maintain an average mark of 75 or higher for every full-time year of study or equivalent. The cross-semester average mark (CSAM) is used to calculate your marks for the purposes of evaluating your eligibility to remain in the stream. The CSAM averages the marks you have achieved over a period of 48 credit points.

Unit of study that are assessed only as pass/fail and credit transfer subjects (from another institution) are excluded from these calculations. However, the marks from all attempts at a unit of study are included.

Q. What happens if I don't achieve a cross-semester average mark (CSAM) of 75?

A. Should this happen, the University will notify your Dalyell coordinator or faculty lead, who may ask to meet with you to discuss the circumstances.

It may result in you being removed from the Dalyell stream. However, if you have completed Dalyell units, these will still count towards your degree where possible. Your enrolment in your course will not be compromised if you are removed from a Dalyell stream.

Q. If I decide I no longer wish to participate in the Dalyell stream, how do I ask to be removed?

A. You will be able to manage your Dalyell status via your student portal. You should contact your Dalyell coordinator or faculty lead before you elect to withdraw.

Q. If I have been removed, or have removed myself, from the Dalyell stream, is there an opportunity to re-enter?

A. Unfortunately, it will not be possible to re-enter the Dalyell stream.

Recognition

Both your academic transcript and your degree certificate (testamur) will reflect your Dalyell Scholar status.

Your participation in the Dalyell stream will be listed for each year, and included in your award detail upon graduation.

You must remain in the stream for the duration of your degree and meet the stream requirements for your Dalyell Scholar status to be reflected on your degree certificate.

Student representation

The University values our Dalyell Scholars as future leaders and aims to give you a role in shaping the opportunities available to you within the Dalyell stream. Each year, two student representatives will be appointed by the Dalyell faculty lead from each faculty or University school offering degrees that include the stream.

These representatives are invited to participate in a Dalyell Scholar Student Liaison Committee and to meet regularly with all of the Dalyell faculty leads. Of these student representatives, a Dalyell Scholar will be invited to attend meetings of the Board of Interdisciplinary Studies Dalyell Subcommittee which oversees the stream.

If you are interested in becoming a faculty representative, please approach your Dalyell faculty lead.
