

International Student Fee Refund in Special Circumstances

Who should complete this form

This application form is for international students to request a refund of fees paid. The request must be due to special circumstances where you were unable to continue with your studies, resulting in you either officially discontinuing your enrolment or not successfully completing the requirements for one or more units of study.

Domestic students with special circumstances must complete the Domestic Student Fee Refund or HELP Debt Remission in Special Circumstances form.

Note

- This application will not remove any academic penalty for your unit(s). You must apply directly to your faculty for amendment of results.
- You cannot apply for a re-credit or refund if you have successfully completed your unit(s) of study. For a refund of overpaid fees, contact the international fees team at international.fees@sydney.edu.au or apply through your Sydney Student Portal.
- Students who paid their SSAF upfront will only be refunded if they withdrew prior to the relevant census date.
- In order to apply for a refund of your tuition fees paid, you must first have paid these fees to the University.

Application Period

Your application must be submitted within 12 months from the day you officially discontinued your studies. Official discontinuation means you have applied via Sydney Student and were granted a DC or DF before the end of the relevant semester.

If you did not officially discontinue your unit(s) (i.e. you have not applied to the University and have received an AF or F grade) your application must be submitted within 12 months from the end of the semester in which you were enrolled in the unit(s).

These arrangements apply to both standard and non-standard semesters / sessions.

The application period may be extended where it was not possible for the application to be made within the 12 month application period. Additional independent supporting documentation is essential for an extension to be considered.

What special circumstances are accepted (all three circumstances must be met)

Each application will be examined and determined on its merits in conjunction with the provided independent supporting documents. These documents must demonstrate that the special circumstances that apply were:

1. Beyond your control:
 - A situation occurs which a reasonable person would consider is not due to the person's action or inaction, either directly or indirectly and for which the person is not responsible. The situation must be unusual, uncommon or abnormal and
2. Did not make their full impact on you until on or after the relevant date, i.e. your circumstances occurred:
 - Before enrolment but worsened after that date, or
 - Before enrolment, commencement or census date, but the full impact or magnitude did not become apparent until on or after that date and
3. Made it impracticable for you to complete the unit / course requirements, such as:
 - Undertake the necessary private study required, or attend sufficient lectures or tutorials or meet other compulsory attendance requirements, or
 - Complete the required assessable work, or
 - Sit the required examinations or complete any other course requirements.

Note

- Special circumstances do not include a lack of knowledge of the Education Services for Overseas Student Act 2000, the International Student Fee Refund Policy 2017 or understanding of the University's admissions and enrolment policies and procedures.
- The relevant date for determining whether special circumstances exist for an international student can be acceptance of offer, enrolment, commencement or census date as each of these dates impacts an international student's entitlement to a fee refund.

Examples Of Special Circumstances

Medical reasons	Where your medical condition existed before the relevant date, continued past that date and deteriorated to the extent that you were unable to continue your studies, or Your medical condition only became known after the relevant date.
Family / Personal reasons	Due to unforeseen personal or family reasons beyond your control you were unable to continue with your studies.
Course related reasons	Where your Faculty changes the arrangements for your unit or course and as a result you are disadvantaged to the extent that you are unable to complete the requirements of the course and continue with your studies.

Supporting Documentation

Your supporting documentation should provide sufficient details for the International Fees team to make an informed decision regarding your case.

You must provide independent supporting documentation to support your claims. It is inadequate to provide only a personal statement outlining your special circumstances.

Depending on your reasons for applying, you may also need to provide a statement from a doctor, counsellor or your faculty to verify your claims. Statements or letters from a member of your family or another student are not considered independent.

Documents submitted in a language other than English must be accompanied by a complete English translation made by an accredited translator with a government body or the Registrar of the issuing institution.

Supporting documentation for medical reasons should include a statement from your doctor, for family reasons a statement from a doctor, counsellor or independent member of the community (e.g. Justice of the Peace or a Minister of Religion) indicating:

- The date your medical condition / personal circumstances began or changed
- How your condition affected your ability to study
- When it became apparent that you could not continue with your studies

For course-related reasons a statement from your faculty indicating:

- That you have been disadvantaged by changed arrangements to your unit of study / course and that it was impossible for you to undertake alternative units of study or courses

Note

- If your application includes a Professional Practitioner Certificate(s) (PPC) as supporting documentation, you must also provide a letter from the doctor / counsellor outlining the details of the certificate(s) that are relevant to this process.
- A PPC is not sufficient independent supporting documentation as these are solely used to assess a student's academic performance.
- All documentation provided as part of the application will be retained by the International Fees team. If you need to keep any original documents, please submit certified copies.

Application Process

1. Complete the attached application form and submit it along with your independent supporting documentation either in person, by post or email. All copies of supporting documentation must be certified.
