

Forms of Consideration Descriptions

a. Replacement Exam

You have been granted a Replacement Exam.

The faculty or school will contact you with the details of your replacement exam. The examination will assess your understanding of the content of the Unit of study. The replacement exam may not cover the same topics as the exam that was impacted, but will test the same learning outcomes. Other factors (such as the length, duration or structure of the exam) may also be different.

b. Replacement Placement (Proposed to change to 'New or Varied Placement')

You have been granted a New or Varied Placement.

The faculty or school will be in contact with you to coordinate this outcome. Please note that the timing of the new or varied placement may have an impact on your ability to progress within your course, and in a small number of circumstances, a new or varied placement may not be available due to factors beyond our control. In this case, you will be provided with an alternative form of consideration, which may include a discontinue not to count as fail.

c. Mark Adjustment

You have been granted a Mark Adjustment.

Your marks will be adjusted (if required) to take into account the impacted assessments. You have a responsibility to catch up any missed content e.g.: through discussion with your classmates and referring to the learning resources provided in your unit of study. Please note however, that where this adjustment would result in more than a third of the marks for the Unit of Study being adjusted, you will be required to complete an alternative assessment instead (as per the Assessment Procedures 2011).

d. Replacement Presentation (Proposed to change to 'New or Varied Presentation')

You have been granted a New or Varied Presentation.

The faculty or school will be in contact with you to coordinate this outcome. This can include a completely new presentation, or a modification to an existing presentation (such as a reschedule). The topic may or may not be the same as the original presentation, but will measure the same learning outcomes.

e. Replacement Assessment (Proposed to change to ‘New or Varied Assessment’)

You have been granted a New or Varied Assessment.

The faculty or school will be in contact with you to coordinate this outcome. This can include a completely new assessment, or a modification to an existing assessment (such as a reschedule). The approach to measuring the learning outcomes will be the same as the original assessment, although other elements (e.g.: length, topic etc.) may vary.

f. Replacement Evaluation (Proposed to change to ‘New or Varied Evaluation’)

You have been granted a New or Varied Evaluation.

The faculty or school will be in contact with you to coordinate this outcome. This can include a completely new evaluation (skills assessment, lab etc.), or a modification to an existing evaluation (such as a reschedule). The evaluation may or may not cover exactly the same items as the original assessment, but will measure the same learning outcomes.

g. Extension of Time

You have been granted an Extension of Time.

The current due date of the assessment will be adjusted to a later date than the original due date. There are no other changes to the assessment.

h. Alternative Assessment

You have been granted an Alternative Assessment.

The faculty or school will provide details on the alternative assessment that must be completed in lieu of the original assessment. The alternative assessment can be any form of assessment which is a different approach to assessing learning outcomes than the original assessment. The alternative assessment will measure the same learning outcomes.

Examples include completion of a written assignment instead of a lab, a presentation in lieu of an essay etc.

i. No action required

There is No Action Required.

Any formal requirement to complete this assessment or attendance is excused. You have a responsibility to catch up on any missed content through discussion with your classmates and referring to the learning resources provided in your unit of student.

j. Replacement Session (used for attendance, no central rules)

You have been granted a Replacement Session.

Refer to any replacement session information that has already been provided, or contact your unit of study coordinator immediately to coordinate a replacement session. The replacement session may cover different aspects, but will measure the same learning outcomes as the original session.

k. Absence Noted

The Absence has been Noted.

Your absence has been noted, however the requirement to meet the minimum attendance requirements remains. This, or further absences may result in a failure to meet the attendance requirement. If you have concerns about meeting the attendance requirements, you should discuss these with your faculty or school.

l. DC

You have been granted a DC (Discontinue not to count as fail).

Please refer to the Coursework policy for more information on this grade.
