

Share your feedback on the undergraduate curriculum

17 May 2022

Dear Chloe,

To help us understand how we can continue to improve your educational experience at the University of Sydney, we are running an online forum which will give you the opportunity to tell us about your experience as a student studying here. We welcome all respectful feedback, so please include both your good experiences in your course, and anything that you think could help you to learn better and achieve your goals.

To protect your privacy and to maximise your ability to provide candid responses, the online Undergraduate Curriculum Forum is completely anonymous and facilitated by an independent provider, Plaetos.

You can access the forum at this link: <https://unisyd.plaetos.app>

To ensure only students reply to the survey, you will need to log in using your UniKey, but once you enter the forum you will be completely anonymous and no one will know your identity in the forum or any associated forum data.

I encourage you to make the most of this opportunity to give us a better idea of what is important to change and improve in our courses at the University. We are seeking feedback on topics such as:

- What is your opinion about the elements of the undergraduate curriculum shared across faculties, including Majors, Minors and free electives in Table S (Shared Pool)?
- What is your feedback on the Open Learning Environment, projects and interdisciplinary options?
- Is there anything you would like to see change in our courses?

The forum is open from Tuesday 17 to Tuesday 24 May. Thank you in advance for taking the time to have your say and influence the educational experience we offer undergraduate students.

Kind regards,

Adam Bridgeman
Interim Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Education)
