

Bondi Junction incident update - memorial for our student

15 April 2024

Dear students,

Today the flags at the University Quadrangle are flying at half-mast in memory of our student and the other victims of the terrible Bondi Junction tragedy. In the face of such a senseless loss, coming together to mourn as a community can provide some comfort. From this afternoon, Monday 15 April, through to Saturday 20 April, the grassed area at the front of the Quadrangle near the Great Hall will be a space for people to commemorate the lives lost.

All members of our extended community, including students of other universities and local residents, are welcome to come here and place flowers and small cards in memory of our student who has died. The family of our student has asked that no identifying messages or photos be placed at the memorial, and we sincerely ask that this wish be respected.

I again encourage you to reach out for support if you need it. You can access free and confidential counselling and wellbeing support 24/7 with Student Wellbeing by visiting the health and wellbeing webpage. 24-hour support is also available from Lifeline via text, online chat, or by calling 13 11 14.

Take care,
Mark

Professor Mark Scott AO
Vice-Chancellor and President

Copyright © 2024 The University of Sydney, NSW 2006 Australia
Phone +61 2 9351 2222 ABN 15 211 513 464 CRICOS Number: 00026A

We recognise and pay respect to the Elders and communities – past, present, and emerging – of the lands that the University of Sydney's campuses stand on. For thousands of years they have shared and exchanged knowledges across innumerable generations for the benefit of all. Learn more.

Please add university.communications@sydney.edu.au to your address book or senders safe list to make sure you continue to see our emails in the future.

Disclaimer | Privacy statement | University of Sydney