Exams, Semester 2

Best of luck to everyone sitting an exam this week – you're almost there! This is our last edition of Student News for the year, so we wish you all the best for the rest of 2023.

For those continuing their studies, we can't wait to welcome you back to campus with our Welcome Program in February 2024.

For those finishing their studies this year, congratulations! We look forward to helping you celebrate your graduation in 2024.

Important information about studies and support

Accessing your Semester 2 results

Your results will be emailed to your University student email account on Wednesday 13 December. After 24 hours, your results will then be available in Sydney Student. Check out our guide to grades to learn more about your results.

Changes to re-enrolment for 2024

We've recently changed how you can select units for the next year, meaning you get earlier access to selecting your units in Sydney Student. From 27 November, most students will be able to log in to Sydney Student and select their units.

After results are released, you will still need to re-enrol to confirm your units and complete enrolment. Learn more about re-enrolment and continuing your studies.

Support during the University break

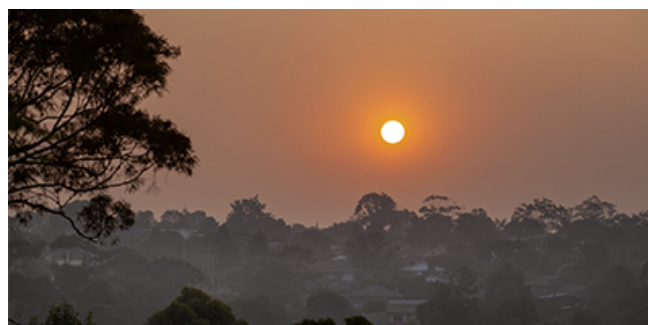

The safety, health and wellbeing of our students is our priority at all times, including during the teaching period and over the break. Primary student services and support will still be available to you over the break and during the University shutdown period from 23 December 2023 to 7 January 2024. Find out about the academic and wellbeing support available to you over the University break.
