

Disability Information

Important: Personal information about students is protected under the Privacy and Personal Information Protection Act 1988 (NSW), the Health Records and Information Privacy Act 2002 (NSW) and the University of Sydney Privacy Policy and Plan (copies of which are available at <http://www.usyd.edu.au/arms/privacy>).

The University is required to provide demographic information to the Australian Government Department of Education, Skills and Employment about the access, participation, retention and success of all students.

This data is not linked to your individual student ID number but is based on information provided by all students at enrolment.

Included in this demographic information is data about the access, participation, retention and success of students with a disability.

It is important that the information provided to the Department of Education, Skills and Employment accurately reflects the numbers of students with a disability attending the University of Sydney.

This data is used by Department of Education, Skills and Employment to determine the funding provided to University to support students with a disability.

I agree to Inclusion and Disability Services confirming and if necessary amending my enrolment details to include my disability status for the purposes outlined above.
