

JOSEPHIAN HYMN,

(on Prayer and Divine Love.)

WORDS

by

The Rev. J. J. Cherry.

MUSIC

Arranged by

MONS^r. GAUTROT

and respectfully inscribed to

The Most Reverend Count Földing

Archbishop of Sydney

and

Metropolitan of Australasia.

FESTIVAL OF ST. JOSEPH

1844

T. Blauett Lithog. Liverpool Street Holb^orn Town.

JOSEPHIAN HYMN.

First Part

Words by The Rev^d J. J. Therry.

Music arranged by Mons^r Gautrot.

Andante canto.

Soprano.

Organo.

Grave.

Teach me dear-est

Lord to pray, what I should think, what I should say.

That I may praise Thee night and day, That my ev-ry thought,

and word may be, of pleasing sacrifice to Thee.

The image shows a musical score for the 'Josephian Hymn'. It is arranged for Soprano and Organ. The score is divided into several systems. The first system shows the Soprano line and the Organ line. The organ part begins with a 'Grave' marking. The tempo is marked 'Andante canto.' The lyrics are: 'Teach me dear-est'. The second system continues the organ part and the Soprano line with lyrics: 'Lord to pray, what I should think, what I should say.' The third system continues with lyrics: 'That I may praise Thee night and day, That my ev-ry thought,'. The fourth system concludes with lyrics: 'and word may be, of pleasing sacrifice to Thee.' The organ part provides accompaniment throughout, with various musical notations such as notes, rests, and dynamics.

8.

Symphony to the end and beginning of the first five Verses.

A men .

Symphony to the last Verse.

2. *Thou knowest, O Lord! without thy aid
A debt to thee cannot be paid,
Nor act of love be ever made,
Nor thought nor word can profit me,
Unless it come, dear Lord, from thee.*

3. *Without thy love no prayer can,
Under thy anger's awful ban,
Avert thy wrath from guilty man,
Nor even should considered be
As worthy to ascend to thee.*

4. *Thy love, O Lord! itself is prayer,
Preserving us from Satan's snare,
And making beautiful, perfect, fair,
According to thy own decree,
All that we say or do for thee.*

5. *May thy love, then, my heart so raise,
Disgusted with all sinful ways,
With benediction, thanks, and praise,
Above whatever on earth we see,
That it may ever live with thee.*

6. *May the spirits who reign above,
Overshadowed by the mystic dove,
Who breathe and live upon this love,
Unite with us in praising thee,
Ever glorious Trinity. Amen!*

JOSEPHIAN HYMN.

Second Part.

Words by The Rev.^d J. J. Therry

Music arranged by Mons^r Gautrot.

Soprano

MODERATO.

Chaste

Organo

spouse of love! Sweet Vir-gin Queen! Re-mem-ber what thy Son hath been, The

Lamb whose blood, as thou hast seen, On Cal-vry's mount did make..... us free. And as a Mother gave..... us..... Thee...

Symphony to the first five Verses.

ff

Amen.

to the last Verse.

2. *Oh! do remember what was done,
Just as his mortal course was run,
By this thy dearest dying Son,
When fastened to the gibbet tree
He gave us, with Saint John, to thee.*

3. *Under the Cross who could despair,
Mercy to gain, by love and prayer,
Seeing the penitent Mary there;
Who from the Cross would never flee,
But faithful 'till death remain with thee.*

4. *That in thy sorrows she might share,
Deep and dreadful as they were,
Augmented by love, supported by prayer,
A mother afflicted 'tis grievous to see,
But never was mother afflicted like thee.*

5. *Next, after thine, his aid we claim,
Whom wishing to be unknown to fame,
The Spirit of Love the "Just" did name;
Who caress'd and cherish'd on his knee
Bethlem's sweet babe that was born of thee.*

6. *May Joseph, John, and Magdalene
In Heav'n, as they on earth had been,
United in love with thee blest Queen,
For ever unite with us and thee
In praise of the Triune Mystery. Amen.*