

2018 INTERCOLLEGIATE SPORT REPORT

GENERAL

Well done to all athletes and spectators involved in this year's Intercollegiate sports competition. As always the passion and comradery seen among each college and within each sporting team makes Intercol Sport an exciting part of the Sydney University experience.

Congratulations to St Andrew's College for their successful plight, continuing their dominance in the Rosebowl competition and winning back the Rawson cup in 2018. Some fantastic individual and team performances were seen throughout the year along with some close finishes and excited spectator cheering.

The Intercol Constitution By-Laws create a great basis for the conducting of college sport and have done for a number of years. However, there are many things that have become outdated and need to be addressed to ensure sporting standards are current and in line with each sport's state competition rules. There are also abnormalities that exist under the current by-laws between sports (for example rules around drawn matches and penalty shoot outs) that need to be readdressed. There has been some conversation around setting up a focus group to go through the By-laws and suggest changes that can then be further discussed and implemented which would be a positive step for the competition moving forward.

Discussion was had throughout the year around the inclusion of Sancta post grad men in the Rawson program. Sancta men competed again this year in Athletics and Swimming and also competed in Rowing for the first time. Currently there are no points awarded to Sancta men for competing in the Rawson and there was much discussion around this as well as the potential of the students to compete in some, but not all, team sports. No conclusion was made around this for future years however with the addition of female students to Paul's in 2019, this should be further discussed and hopefully a decision can be made on this.

This year's Annual Sports Dinner was held at St Andrew's College to round out the year and acknowledge those winning colleges and valuable players in each sport. Congratulations to Tom Galvin (St Andrew's) and Maddie McCathie (St Andrew's) for their overall sportsman and sportswomen awards for Intercol in 2018.

A big thanks to the Intercol Sports Committee this year, who despite having a difficult start to the year with changes and large unknowns worked extremely well together to get as much achieved as possible within their capacity. It was great to see a dedicated group of students, passionate about both their respective colleges and sport, engage in meaningful and balanced discussions with their peers for the betterment of the Intercol Community.
